Survivors Against Domestic Abuse; how does it work to help?

First contact:

We receive contact details of service users from an agency or in person.

Crisis intervention:

We will look to support with housing related issues and refer for home security measures. SADA can also refer to other agencies for tailored support.

To panel:

SADA and partners will meet each six weeks to make sure action is coherent and effective.

Outcomes:

In each case, support is carefully reviewed to make sure it works effectively for those who use the service.
